About:

I am Dr. Anju, currently serving as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Hindi at the Faculty of Arts, Craft, and Social Sciences, Tanta University, Sri Ganganagar. With over five years of teaching experience, I am passionate about nurturing a deeper understanding of Hindi literature through innovative and interdisciplinary approaches.

I hold a Ph.D. in Hindi from Tanta University (2017), preceded by an M.A. and B.A. in Hindi from Maharaja Ganga Singh University, Bikaner. My academic journey has been shaped by a strong commitment to research and critical inquiry. My doctoral research focused on Critic Dr. Ganpati Chandra Gupta's Achievement-Oriented Exchange Literature: Study and Practice, exploring intersections of theory and literary practice.

I have contributed to the field through three research publications and participated in three academic conferences. My areas of interest include comparative criticism, cross-cultural dialogue, innovation in literary evaluation techniques, and preserving academic legacies in literary institutions. I strive to integrate theory with practical engagement, aiming to inspire my students and contribute meaningfully to the academic community.
