About:

I am Dr. Tej Kumar, currently working as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology, Faculty of Arts, Craft & Social Sciences. With 16 years of experience in the field of education and research, I have consistently worked toward understanding and addressing key social issues through academic engagement.

I hold a Ph.D. in Sociology from Tantia University, Ganganagar (2023), an M.A. in Sociology from MGSU, Bikaner (2013), and a B.A. from the same university (2002). Over the years, I have published 8 research papers and participated in 3 academic conferences.

My research focuses on women's participation in Panchayat Samitis, which highlights my interest in rural governance, gender roles, and grassroots democracy. My broader areas of interest include rural sociology, women empowerment, social structures in local governance, and community participation in development.

Through my work, I aim to promote inclusive social development and contribute to a deeper understanding of India's evolving social fabric.
