About:

I am Dr. Vandna Tiwari, currently working as an Associate Professor in the Department of Hindi, Faculty of Arts, Craft & Social Sciences. With 16 years of teaching and research experience, I have consistently focused on deepening the understanding of Hindi literature, especially its philosophical and humanistic dimensions.

I earned my Ph.D. in Hindi from Dr. B.R. Ambedkar University, Agra in 2004. I also completed both my M.A. and B.A. in Hindi from the same university in 2000. Over the years, I have contributed 15 research publications and participated in 3 academic conferences, reflecting my active engagement in the academic and literary community.

My primary research explores Kamayani's humanistic philosophy of life, a subject that aligns with my interest in literature as a medium of philosophical reflection and emotional exploration. My key areas of interest include human emotions and existential quest in Kamayani, symbolism and philosophical thought in Hindi literature, integration of Vedic themes with humanism, and progression of consciousness in the works of Aurobindo and Nirala.

Through my teaching and research, I strive to inspire students to connect literature with life, values, and the human experience in its fullest form.
